About us

GRIMM'S is a family driven and sustainably managed manufacturer, producing safe and high quality toys at the foot of the Swabian Alb in Germany.

The headquarters staff in Hochdorf, Germany does all the design work, the surface finish and treatment, assembly, quality control, packing and shipping worldwide.

The roots of the firm GRIMM'S Spiel und Holz Design began more than 40 years ago - in 1978. In August 2006, the company formerly known as Spiel und Holz Design became GRIMM'S Spiel und Holz Design under new ownership.

Our intent is to design toys, whose simple and reduced design together with beautiful coloring and inviting surface feel are well suited for all ages – products that are played with over and over again.

We have a small workshop in house but most of the Woodworking is outsourced to a few independent shops in Europe only.
The owner of the largest one among them learned his wood-working skills at our company over many years before he founded his own company in his country.

For many products, assembly and packaging is done successfully in cooperation with sheltered workshops in Germany.

After receipt of the raw products, we inspect for quality and complete the remaining production steps here in Germany.

We are certified in accordance with the ISO 9001:2008 quality standard as well as the FSC™ standard.
All colors and oils we use are certified in accordance with the EN 71 and CPSIA/ASTM 963 standards.

Made by Nature

We love wood because it is a natural product and always carries individual marks that end up in our products and make each of them unique.

Wood feels good in our hands with its warmth and distinct surface. To enhance this vibrant expression of wood, we only varnish our wood with color and oil.

Grimm's toys are always one-of-a-kind, carrying unique marks made by nature. Wood grain has changing structures and colors which serve as proof of its natural origins. The unique variations are proof of quality, not defects.

In order to ensure sustainability in our production, we strive to increase our customers' understanding and appreciation of the unique traces of nature. Our Made by Nature label aids in raising this awareness.

Quality and Safety

All of our products including the color and oil meet the European standard for safety of toys (EN71) and the US standards.
This is regularly tested.

All of our products are hand-made.

We use alder, lime, beech and maple wood.
We are certified according to the FSC™ standard: the wood is only from sustainable forestry sources in Europe.

Because wood is a natural material it always has various markings that show up in our products, making each one unique. These unique variations are proof of quality, not defects.

We only varnish our wood with color and oil. We use non-toxic water based color stain or a non-toxic plant based oil finish. All colors and oils we use are certified in accordance with the EN 71 and CPSIA/ASTM 963 standards.

If you clean our products wipe gently using a damp cloth only. When drying, please do not put on a heater, as this may cause cracks in the wood – simply let dry at room temperature. Please do not submerge in water and do not use disinfectant or hot water.

If wood breaks, it can be glued. Often no replacement part will fit because our products are made by hand. We have prepared a small first-aid kit which is available upon request to retail partners.
What a joy when the toy is ready for play again!

All of our fabrics are Oeko-Tex certified.

For us, it is important to achieve minimal packaging because we do not want to contribute to worldwide packaging waste any more than absolutely necessary to ensure safe transport.

This symbol denotes the product is made in cooperation with handicapped people.

Many of our products are recommended by "spiel gut" (good toy guide) an independent certification for educationally valuable toys in Germany.

Rattles & Grasping Toys

Multi-sensory approach in timeless designs nourish baby's delicate senses.

@creciendoconmontessori

Graspers

Our Natural Beads Grasper is made of three types of wood. Little explorers will have sensory experiences with light and dark, hard and soft, heavy and light, structured and smooth wood.

The colors of our beads are from non-toxic, water based stains which are absolutely harmless and tested in-depth for color fastness to saliva.

Did you know? Natural unpainted wood has an open, rough surface that binds moisture. And on this dry surface, bacteria cannot multiply, they die.

Rattles

Wood from the alder tree is very special and gives unique structure to each of our rattles and grasping toys.
The plant based oil finish protects the wood and accentuates this vivid structure.

Our rattle fishes are filled with fine semi precious stones, which make a pleasant, gentle sound.

The unique feature of the Rattle Rose Quartz is the contrast between the warmth of the wood and the coolness of the semi-precious stone.

Our supplier guarantees fair production of the stones by regularly visiting the producers personally.

Robust & All Terrain

Our vehicles and pull-along toys are impressive, simple in design and easy to load. They work quite well off-road and are suitable for rides in the countryside.

Our wooden sailing boats on wheels - the Land Yachts - definitely float and are absolutely bathtub-worthy!

Tip: When drying, please do not put on a heater, as this may cause cracks in the wood – simply let dry at room temperature.

Dollhouse Families

All dolls from this page and the previous one are manufactured in Europe using traditional handwork techniques.

The loving faces are painted by hand, giving each a doll a unique expression. Only certified Oeko-Tex Standard 100 cotton fabrics are used. The stuffing is soft polyester. The arms and legs have sewn-in wire, so the dolls are poseable.

Our dolls prefer gentle hand washing. Please wash the faces carefully. The colors on the face are waterproof, but can fade and the fabric can be stretched out if not washed gently.

Sorting Helper

This Sorting Helper (see page 42) can be used to sort and keep all the colored wooden beads from our standard offering and other Grimm's treasures. Children love sorting the beads. And if things somehow get out of order, they usually also love to put things back in order again.
Great also for holding pencils, pens, scissors, and more.

Stacking & Sorting

One year olds and up begin to discover and sort colors, shapes and sizes with these classic toys.

The individual pieces become wonderful „blocks“ as children get older and start to build structures and scenes.

Stacking & Building

A disc rolls over the floor and little Laura crawls behind, cheekily catching it.

Then she tries to put the disc on the rod. She looks for the hole in the middle of the disc and with a little back and forth, the disc falls on top of the others with a clack.

A look toward mom and a proud laugh shows pure joy in her own success.

This fun, classic toy for toddlers promotes and develops eye-hand coordination and fine motor skills.

Building
& Rainbow Worlds

"Our Grimm's Rainbow has been in our family for ten years. It started as nursery decor, then it became a stacking and color sorting toy. Now our rainbow lives together with a lot of complements in our playroom, where it sets the stage for countless hours of imaginary play. My little one is sorting, counting and balancing. My middle child spends her time setting up beautiful patterns with the contrasting colors. She marries the sets together beautifully, creating new opportunities to play. My oldest child spends hours to balance, sculpt, and make marble runs.

The beauty of these open-ended building toys is that they grow with the child. Because of their open-ended nature, these materials are able to meet the child where he or she is in their own individual stage of development. There is something about these enchanting handmade toys that makes me think they absorb the stories of the children that use them."

The entry into the world of free play

Due to the smaller number of parts and colors, we recommend the 6pc Rainbow and the other four elements for children from one year and up as an introduction to the amazing world of free play and the wonderful world of rainbows.

First, the play is simple as pieces are disassembled, stacked and sorted. Later, complex structures emerge as quickly as new ideas spring forth.

Sometimes a doll's bed or even a doll's house, then fences or mountains. The simplicity of the design inspires children's imagination.

The Small Four Elements are perfect travel companions for children age 3 and up.

The World of the Large Rainbows

Around our 12pc Rainbow and the Rainbow Friends, a colorful mix of various building materials has emerged that open up unbounded play opportunities.

Whether a dollhouse or a garage built with the semicircles or balancing games with the boards or ingenious ball tracks, there is much to discover in a world of free play where the ideas come from the children themselves.

Extraordinary Toys for People with Special Needs:
The high contrast in color as well as textured surfaces of the monochrome series of toys help to develop individual needs.

Children with visual handicaps will be motivated to discover the world around them by discerning a more visible world.

These multi-sensory toys with simple forms, high contrast coloring, and textured surfaces or motion driven sounds will aid in development and stimulation of particular senses.

Beginning Builders

The blocks on this page are ideal for discovering the wide world of construction. After playing, the blocks are quickly cleaned up using the net bag or a basket.

Children's block play starts from simple stacking to elaborately constructed scenes. These building blocks stimulate the imagination, so each play time is a new world to be created.

Pebbles & Gems

All pieces are ground by hand, so these are not only wonderful to look at with their vibrant colors and special wood grain, but also very pleasing to the touch for small and big hands. Amazing towers can be made from the colorful pebbles.

The artful facet cut of the large gemstones makes possible incredibly slanted, gravity defying sculptures and buildings.

Organic Shapes

Whimsical houses allow children to re-enact their favorite fairy tales.

They are ideal for children to play with as building blocks, creative puzzles or for setting up an imaginative scene – can also be used as decorations on nature tables.

Building & Puzzles

Our construction toys in a wooden frame span a wide range from strictly geometrical forms to organic forms which are modeled after nature.

It's not important to put the image back together correctly. Rather, it's about discovering together what else can be created.

The games complement every room and can be transformed at will. They will be played with throughout childhood as little ones play one way and older children play another way.

The age recommendations are based on the size of the individual parts of a game and the number of parts or shapes in the game. The smaller the parts and the more complex the color and style, the older the age recommendation.

Glamorous sparkle

The Mandalas are real eye-catchers and are produced in cooperation with workshops for disabled people in Germany. With their help, the beautiful acrylic glittering stones are incorporated into the building blocks and give the mandalas a magical appearance.

The pieces can be assembled in many different forms or let countless beautiful free forms and motifs arise.

The pieces can also be used as building blocks. Combined with other components, imaginative play worlds become real, guaranteeing years of creative fun.

This large spiral staircase is a useful and special addition to all construction kits. Every building can be made accessible: a magnificent palace gets a majestic stairway, mysteriously spiral staircases lead a princess through a magical maze, knights fight in a fairy tale castle on confusing steps and towers against a dragon.

The spiral staircase looks magical through its double-barreled steps and enhances every room, always inviting you to create another new imaginative story scene.

It's tricky

At first, this building set looks like a memory game in which the matching color blocks must come together.

In fact, it is a tricky building set with blocks tilted at different angles designed for young and old. It is ideal for creating intriguing marble tracks or towers that push the boundary in angles and height.

By building and playing with uneven blocks, children develop fine motor skills and spatial thinking skills.

A Lot of Tact

The ingenious constructions of Leonardo da Vinci: using these simple Sticks one can create a bridge (see cover) or a dome (to the right) which stands without glue or strings and without a nail or a screw! Admittedly, one needs a steady hand and some finesse to set it up. Combine the Sticks with other building blocks to make stairs, bridges, houses and other buildings!

For Marble Run Builders

A building block that really has what it takes - tricky and surprising layering options are created through spatial thinking.

This is how new and various objects in different color patterns are created over and over again. In combination with our classic building materials, the Cornerstones reveal their true greatness. With their aid, the most diverse marble runs arise.

Learn & Experience

We offer products that support notable learning outcomes by illustrating mathematical correlations and making them tangible at the same time.

Everything that can be captured with both the hands and the eyes will be understood and memorized more easily.

Grimm's World of Numbers

All games shown on this page fit perfectly together. Children can discover the more abstract world of numbers in many different ways by playing and by simply using their different senses.

They can make sense of what belongs together and thereby discover the world of numbers for themselves.

These are not traditional educational toys or materials that are precise and guide toward one correct answer.

None of the products have numbers or fractions on them since the main intention is to provide materials that stimulate free play in various ways. There are endless ways to discover the abstract world of numbers by using the different senses.

A real understanding is much easier with concepts that can be observed with the eyes, touched and felt with the hands, and discovered with joy!

Easy Counting

These products illustrating mathematical correlations and making them tangible at the same time.

Everything that can be captured with both the hands and the eyes will be understood and memorized more easily.

Thus, these articles are ideally suited for kindergartens and elementary schools. They are ideal for free work with children, for example in a math or puzzle area in the classroom.

Spatial Thinking

The games on this page stimulate and promote spatial thinking in both children and adults.

These games provide many options for playing and learning in preschool and grade school. Children are able to express their fantasy and gain an understanding of geometrical shapes.

A colorful arithmetic box for preschool, school and for arithmetic fun for the whole family: place funny colored numbered snakes, add and subtract, form a multiplication chart, identify prime numbers and generate checksums.

Explore Geometry

When children are able to feel and experience geometric shapes with their hands, they have the opportunity to make connections and discoveries for themselves and increase spatial perception - ideal for home and school.

Spelling and Linguistic Development

The P does not want to stand with his heavy head, it tilts forward and leans on the E. If I follow the B with my fingers, it feels soft. The K is very angular and has two long arms. The S is shaped like a snake, through the O I can see through.

Each in his/her own way, children can visually and happily discover the letter forms. This creates a light and playful approach to the world of writing and reading.

@veronikagphotography

What is a year? How many months in a year? What happens during a year?

The circular nature of the seasons and the various occasions during the months are vividly portrayed in our Annual Ring in keeping with Maria Montessori's observations about how to best help children learn. Green shades represent spring, yellow for summer, red for autumn, and blue for winter.

Each of the twelve segments of the annual ring represents one month (dark blue represents January, purple represents December.) Each week (for example, each Monday) a candle or marble is moved one hole along the ring. A figure of our selected figures for each month (03050) can be placed in the inside hole and the bowl in the middle of the circle can hold all the treasures gathered during the month, including items children collect on their walks through nature, a birthday gift, a large candle... just to name a few.

Experience the Seasons

On the Circular Disc for Year Calendar the Annual Ring (03000) can be placed centrally. For each day a marble will be placed on the ring, starting at the current month. At the end of the month you clear the ring and space is made for the new month.

Birthday Rings

Bright children's eyes discover a favorite animal between flowers and candles on the birthday ring. Children love to gather around the decorated ring, watch the flickering candle flame, and, of course, blowing out the candles.

The ring can also be decorated seasonally as a centerpiece on the dining table. Light a candle while sharing a family meal as a small symbol of an everyday special moment.

Advent & Birthday Spirals

This wooden spiral is an Advent decoration or a beautiful centerpiece on the birthday table.

The elements can also be set up individually or in a row like a wavy line. At Advent, you can light a new candle on each of the 24 days, or move a candle along a hole each day.

For birthdays, the adding of a new candle each year will become a cherished ritual. Decorative figures, a small vase of flowers (04700/04760) and the birthday number can add to the enchanting spiral.

To allow the candles to burn off safely, please order the matching candle holders (04800 or 04801).

Make sure that there is no draft and that no decorative figure is near the flames.

Decorative Figures

Whether Happy Birthdays or Spooky Halloween, for every occasion there is the right figure.

The lovingly hand painted small figures adorn our birthday and table decorations for special days and are charming additions to seasonal table scenes.

For the birthday child, a small collection of favorites can be selected. For example, meaningful symbols and favorite animals can be chosen to create a special theme.
